IVIS SECURITY

Enhancing service by the bartender

Improving sales and customer satisfaction at the bar counter.

The Challenge
A restaurant owner expressed concern over the quality and frequency of the bar tender's customer service.

The Solution
Bar staff's interactions with patrons at the counter were analyzed.

No of times the bartender had offered service to the patrons after the initial encounter was measured.

The Result

- Baseline no of "offers for service" after the initial encounter was at 1.3 per patron.
Post-intervention, the "offers for service" rose to 2.7 times per patron.
- Substantial increase in sales at the bar counter was noted.

IVIS is not only a protector,...but also a problem solver
